OpenAI just launched “claim your business” in ChatGPT

Beta, 10 Nov 2026. Here is what is confirmed.

“Claiming does not guarantee higher placement or sales.”

That is OpenAI’s own line. It is a way to give ChatGPT your facts, not a ranking button.

OpenAI announcement and product page, 10 Nov 2026, as quoted by Search Engine Roundtable and Flavio Copes.

Three things, one dashboard

1 · CLAIM

Claim your business in Business Hub and manage the information ChatGPT uses about it.

2 · INSIGHTS

Mentions, website clicks and discovery topics. Clicks do not confirm visits or conversions.

3 · BUSINESS AGENTS

A chat with your business, starting with eligible ecommerce and online service businesses in the US.

OpenAI says 1.2 billion people use ChatGPT each week. That figure is self-reported.

OpenAI announcement, 10 Nov 2026, as quoted by Search Engine Roundtable.

Three steps, two approvals

1

Verify the claim

Phone or text to the business number, or a DNS record. Reports add email and Shopify.

2

Pass the identity check

Persona. Needed to publish changes, add a feed or see insights. The blue check comes after it.

3

Edit your profile

Website, description, category, logo, cover, delivery and return policies. OpenAI reviews each change.

Search Engine Roundtable and Flavio Copes, 10 Nov 2026. Persona and email/Shopify details come from the hands-on guide.

WHO CAN USE IT

Not everyone can use it yet

LOCAL STORES AND RESTAURANTS

Can claim only an existing listing, and only in the US.

ONLINE BUSINESSES

Eligible ones can add a new profile if none exists. You need a website.

FREELANCERS AND AGENCIES

The “service you visit or provide remotely” option showed “coming soon” on launch day.

I could not confirm availability for Mexico or Latin America. Check eligibility in Business Hub.

Flavio Copes hands-on guide, 10 Nov 2026, quoting OpenAI’s policies.

You control the facts

YOU CAN EDIT

Facts

Website, description, delivery and return policies

YOU CANNOT BUY

Rank

ChatGPT keeps making its own recommendations

My read: ChatGPT gets accurate inputs from you. The ranking stays its call.

For an online business, one hands-on test counted a mention only when ChatGPT referenced the website. A brand named without a link to its site did not count.

OpenAI product page via Flavio Copes, 10 Nov 2026. One test, one product category.

WHAT I WOULD DO

This week, three steps

Which fact about your business would you correct first?

1

Check eligibility and ownership

If someone already claimed your listing, there is a “Dispute ownership” option.

2

Fix your facts first

Prices, stock, delivery and return policies. Those are the inputs you can change.

3

Measure on your side

Filter utm_source=chatgpt.com in your analytics, and ask “how did you find us?”

Sources: Search Engine Roundtable and Flavio Copes, 10 Nov 2026. Links in the first comment.